'COLLECTIVE SOUL' RETURNS TO KONA BREWING CONCERT CALENDAR

Kailua-Kona, Big Island of Hawaii — Georgia-based pop rock band Collective Soul brings its chart-topping music to Kona Brewing Company's outdoor Brewhouse Oasis in Kailua-Kona on Saturday, Sept. 10. Gates open at 5 p.m., and music begins at 6:30 p.m. with local band Dylan Kai and Friends opening the show. Collective Soul's Hawaii tour, sponsored by Kona Brewing Company, also rocks Maui September 9 and Oahu September 11.

Collective Soul's smash hits include "Gel," "Shine," "The World I Know," and "Precious Declaration," among others. Since 1993, the band has released six studio albums and two compilation albums. Collective Soul blends the talents of five musicians – Ed Roland, vocals, keyboards and guitars; Dean Roland, rhythm guitars; Will Turpin, bass and percussion; Shane Evans, drums and percussion; and Joel Koesche, guitar. Collective Soul will be promoting its latest album, "Youth," which was released in November 2004. Two singles from that album already have made the Billboard Mainstream Rock Charts, "Counting the Days" and "Better Now." The band played to a sold-out audience at Kona Brewing Company's Brewhouse Oasis three years ago.

Tickets are $30 in advance, $35 at the door. Kona Brewing Company's tasty food and handcrafted ales and lagers will be available for purchase throughout the evening. Tickets are on sale now at Kona Brewing Company and Mele Kai Music in Kona; Byrd's Audio in Waimea; and CD Wizard in Hilo.
