311 ROCKS KONA BREWING COMPANY'S BREWHOUSE OASIS

Kailua-Kona, Big Island of Hawaii — Popular funk, hip-hop, reggae and rock group 311 brings its spring tour to Kona Brewing Company's Brewhouse Oasis for a lively performance under the stars Friday, March 24. Gates open at 5 p.m., and the show starts at 7 p.m. The band will be promoting its latest album, "Don't Tread On Me," released last summer.

All five members of 311 grew up in the 1970s in Omaha, Nebraska. 311's first CD, "Music," was released with little fanfare in February 1993 (now Gold). In July 1994 the band released its second CD, "Grassroots" (now Gold). In July 1995 311 released its third CD, "311." In September 1996 song "Down" hit the airwaves and became an across-the-board success at radio and MTV. "Down" went to #1 on the Billboard Modern Rock Chart, and the follow-up single, "All Mixed Up," went to #2. In the years that have followed, 311 has released several additional recordings and has gained a terrific following while touring throughout the U.S. and abroad.

Band members include Nicholas Lofton Hexum on vocals and guitar; Timothy Jerome Mahoney playing guitar; P-Nut on bass; Chad Ronald Sexton playing drums and percussion; and Douglas Vincent Martinez, also known as SA, on vocals.

Tickets are $38. Kona Brewing Company's award-winning handcrafted beers and gourmet pizzas will be available for purchase throughout the evening. 311 also will be performing on Oahu March 25 and Maui March 26. For more information call Kona Brewing Company, 334-1133.
