KONA BREWING CO. KOKO MARINA PUB COOKS UP REVAMPED MENU

Kailua-Kona, Big Island of Hawaii— Kona Brewing Company's Koko Marina Pub recently unveiled a new menu, sure to tantalize the tastebuds of food and beer aficionados. Fresh local fish and produce dominate the new offerings, providing guests a true taste of Hawaii. In addition to revamping the menu, the pub bar area now also boasts televisions that show popular sporting events.

Topping the list of most popular new menu items is the Ahi Aloha Tower pupu, which features three different styles of ahi tartar including spicy tobiko, wasabi honey and sesame oil, layered with won ton chips and served with sweet shoyu. From the salad menu, guests can now select the Seared Poke Salad, which serves up fresh local fish cubed, seared and finished with sesame oil, atop fresh romaine mix, daikon sprouts, diced tomatoes and cucumbers with crispy won tons and a soy lime dressing on the side. The Macadamia Nut Crusted Fresh Fish entrée features fresh local fish crusted with Hawaii-grown macadamia nuts, served with hapa rice, yellow squash and arugula confetti and topped with Thai guava sauce. The Portlock Prawns are tiger shrimp, lightly sautéed with capers, mushrooms, onions, garlic and fresh tomatoes, served with herbed orzo pasta and zesty garlic bread. Two new menu sides – Green Papaya Slaw and Ginger-Coconut Purple Sweet Potatoes – are proving to be as popular with guests as the sandwiches and entrees they complement.

Menu items are designed to pair with Kona Brewing Company's handcrafted ales and lagers. With a dozen different beers on tap ranging in color from very light to black and in flavor from crisp and refreshing to roasty and strong, the pub can pour a beer for every dish. Servers can expertly assist patrons in beer pairing recommendations.
